Jesus and the Woman at the Well

One day, Jesus was traveling with his disciples, walking through a place called Samaria. Jesus was tired from walking a long way, so he stopped and sat down by a well.

While Jesus was there, a Samaritan woman came to the well to get water. Jesus said to her, "Please give me drink of water." The woman said, "I am surprised you are asking me for a drink! You are Jewish and I am a Samaritan." In those days, Jewish and Samaritan people weren't usually friendly to each other, but Jesus was kind and loved everyone.

Then, Jesus told her something special. He said, "If you knew who I am, you would ask me for living water." The woman was curious and asked, "Where will you get this living water?" Jesus explained that living water means having God's spirit inside you. It's about being close to God and worshiping Him.

Jesus said, "Living water will give eternal life." The woman was amazed and said, "I want this living water!" Then she told Jesus, "I know that one day the Savior of the world will come." Jesus said, "I am the Savior. I am here with you now."

The woman was so happy to hear this news that she hurried back to her village, calling out to everyone she met, "Come and see! I met someone amazing at the well. He knows all about me and told me about God's love!"

Soon, many people from the village came to see Jesus. They listened to his words and believed him. They said, "We know that this man is the Savior of the world."
